

PCSS Post Secondary Spotlight

So, you want to be a...

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

Speech-Language Pathologist

Speech-language pathologists prevent, assess, diagnose, and provide counselling and rehabilitation for communication and swallowing disorders.

Speech-language pathologists need a master's degree in speech-language pathology. Universities and colleges throughout Alberta offer 4-year bachelor's degree programs that provide suitable preparation for this program.

Minimum Education: 6 years post-secondary

Master of Science in Speech-Language Pathology (Communication Sciences and Disorders)

Bachelor of Science

The Faculty of Science offers a wide range of Bachelor of Science undergraduate programs. Bachelor of Science Major, Honors as well as our combined Bachelor of Science/Bachelor of Education programs allow students to focus on an area of study that fits their academic goals. Undergraduate learning in a Bachelor of Science program means you will receive specialized scientific training in various areas of science, and develop transferable skills that prepare you for countless career paths.

We offer 29 different subject areas in diverse fields of modern science.

Whether you want to focus on just one subject or add a secondary subject, come explore your options and find the program that is right for you.

There are various ways to study an undergraduate degree in Science. We offer Major and Honors degrees as well as a combined degree with the Faculty of Education.

Applying for an internship, making your mark with research, and studying abroad are just some of the ways you can enhance your undergraduate degree experience.

Admission requirements depend on the major you choose.

Admission Average: 70%

In HIGH DEMAND!

<https://alis.alberta.ca/occinfo/occupations-in-alberta/occupation-profiles/speech-language-pathologist/>

<https://www.ualberta.ca/science/programs/bachelor-of-science/index.html>

https://calendar.ualberta.ca/preview_program.php?catoid=44&poid=54797

Average Wage

$52.47

Per Hour

Average Salary

$85,629.00

Per Year